President's Report

OCFA Annual General Meeting

This year, our AGM will take place on Wednesday April 27th in the Kelowna cafeteria. The bar will open at 5:00pm, the always popular Infusions buffet will be served at 6:00pm, and the meeting will begin at around 6:30pm. Those of you who are new to the OCFA should know that this is customarily our biggest event of the year, and (most) folks aren't just there for the free dinner and drinks. In addition to our regular OCFA business, we also have an election of every position on the Executive, Council, and CARO. You will be receiving nomination forms in the next few weeks, so if you or someone you know is interested in getting more involved with the OCFA in this way, the 27th is your night. We'll also have a bargaining update for you, which ought to be rather more immediate than usual since, as I type this, several institutions in our sector are poised for strike action. Mark your calendars, everyone.

OCFA Bursary and Tony Williams Memorial Bursary

As I mentioned to you all via email a few weeks ago, the OCFA sponsors a bursary for relatives of our members each year who are attending OC. This year, we have been able to support five deserving recipients, so congratulations to the family members of Susan Cawsey, Derek Cook, Steve Doyle, Dan Ling, and Ellen Pederson whose applications were all successful. New departments

Last week, the OCFA council approved the Dean of Science, Technology, and Health's request for the creation of the Sustainable Construction Management Technology (SCMT) department. As is the case with the two other departments we have recently approved (Bachelor of Science in Nursing, and Interdisciplinary Studies), SCMT is awaiting confirmation of funding for next year.

As ever, if you have any questions, don't hesitate to ~~get in touch~~ with me by email (TWalters@okanagan.bc.ca) or phone (250-718-4161).

Contract Negotiation Report - Bargaining Update, March, 2011:

As you've probably heard, things have been heating up in college sector bargaining. Vancouver Island Faculty Association is on strike after repeated attempts to bargain with the University were unsuccessful. The administration at VIU have shown little interest in bargaining in good faith, repeatedly cancelling meetings and stonewalling any attempts at discussion by using the "net zero" mandate.

The main issue for VIUFA is job security. In spite of VIU's new university status and waitlists for classes, cuts are being made to crucial programs and faculty layoffs are threatened.

Here's an excerpt from a VIU student's recent editorial in the Nanaimo Daily News: "The VIUFA, on the other hand, is telling us that they started with 41 bargaining items that they've Replacement on Scale.

All employees including those with part-time contracts go up one step on the salary scale each year until they reach step 1 (article 33.4). When a term employee is offered a continuing appointment they do not simply stay at their current salary step. Instead they are repositioned on the salary scale based on

1. their qualifications and experience prior to OC employment according to the criteria in article 34.3 to the maximum initial placement of step 7, unless this is waived by the OC President, and
2. their experience at OC while on term appointments counted on a full-time equivalent basis and added to the placement determined in step 1.

As a result of this repositioning on scale when a continuing appointment is offered a term employee with lots of part-time work they may find their annual salary has dropped a few steps on the scale. Fortunately the benefit of a full salary without the .89 discount factor used in the part-time salary formula along with a full 12 months of employment will offset the decrease in annual salary. Plus part-time employees have benefited from full step increments each year of employment while on part-time contracts.

If you are an employee on part-time contract make sure you are getting a step increment each year. Check your contract against the salary scale in the collective agreement before you sign it each year.

UPCOMING COLLEGE PENSION PLAN RETIREMENT SEMINAR

The BC Pension Corporation is putting on a retirement seminar for College Pension Plan members on Thursday, 31 March from 4:00 to 7:00 PM at Power Concepts, located at 1203-Enterprise Way in Kelowna. According to the website, the seminar is now full. You can still register to get on a wait list by visiting the BC College Pension Plan website. You will be notified by email if a spot opens up. Due to the popularity of the event, I will ask HR to organize another seminar for the fall of 2011.

For those of you fortunate enough to be registered for the seminar, make sure to bring your most recent Member's Benefit Statement with you. The seminar is advertised as being more "hands on" and "personalized" than it used to be. You should have received the statement a month or so ago by office mail. If you cannot find it, you may be able to print off a copy of the statement by selecting My Account on the website and following the instructions. The My Account service will be used by individual members during the seminar, so ensure that you are able to access it prior to attending. If you have not yet accessed My Account on the website, your username and temporary password can be found in the personal information section of your Member's Benefit statement. It is also recommended that you bring a calculator to the seminar.

If you want to check out the Seminar Handbook that will be used during the session, it is available online at the BC College Pension Plan website. Click on Pension Information Seminars (under "Resources") and you should see an icon of the Seminar Handbook.
